

Dr Joanne Irons

Dear Friends

Does your job still excite you? When was the last time you came home from work on a real high?

Time for a change?

CareFlight are leaders in aeromedical emergency services and we want you to join us! Put your skills and knowledge to use in an environment unlike any other you've worked in before and be part of a professional, dynamic and friendly team. See Sydney as you've never seen it before, see New South Wales, see Australia and maybe even see the world!

Our teams are involved in over 3000 missions each year involving helicopter, fixed wing and road primary rescue and critical care retrieval. We provided the medical management for the 1998 Sydney-Hobart yacht race rescue, the Waterfall train disaster, the Bali bombing and the Banda Aceh tsunami. We transported and treated Sophie Delezio, Kerry Packer, Keith Richards as well as over 25000 others.

With CareFlight every patient you treat is by definition too sick for the hospital or environment they are in, which is why you are involved. You can make a difference!

Sound too difficult?

We will train you. We have an extensive induction program that will teach you everything you need to know. You will learn from the best – our doctors train the Australian military in pre-hospital trauma and patient retrieval. Training and education play a major role at CareFlight.

You are never alone. You will work as part of a professional crew, with highly motivated and experienced members of aviation, rescue, paramedic and nursing backgrounds. Consultants are always at hand over the telephone to support and guide you when required.

You can do it. The fitness requirement is within everyone's reach. You don't have to be Superman – I am 5'1" and weigh less than 50kgs and I can do it!

Interested?

For more information about working for CareFlight, email Clinical and Human Resources Manager Jude Pettitt at judep@careflight.org.

Thank you for your attention, I look forward to welcoming you to CareFlight. I'm sure it will be the best term you've ever done – it was for all of us!!

Joanne Irons
CareFlight Registrar